

#2 - Witches

BIBLIOGRAPHY

Adu-Gyamfi, Samuel, et al. "A Historical Narrative of the British Colonial Administration's Clamp down on Witch Finding Shrines amongst the Asante People of the Gold Coast." Online International Journal of Arts and Humanities, vol. 2, no. 9, 2013, pp. 228–234., www.academia.edu/10018221/A_Historical_narrative_of_the_British_Colonial_Administrations_Clamp_down_on_Witch_finding_Shrines_amongst_the_Asante_People_of_the_Gold_Coast.

Duni, Matteo. "Magic, Religion, & Inquisition." 2014, Florence, Italy.

Nyoni, Rungano, director. I Am Not a Witch. Artificial Eye, 2017. Criterion Collection.

Roxburgh, Shelagh. "Witchcraft and Violence in Ghana." Cahiers D'études Africaines, no. 224, 2016, pp. 891–914., doi:10.4000/etudesafricaines.18387.

Vasconi, Elisa. "Witchcraft, Medicine and British Colonial Rule: Anthropological Analysis of Colonial Documents in the Gold Coast." Perspectives on African Witchcraft, 8 Dec. 2016, doi:<https://doi.org/10.4324/9781315439921>.

Whitaker, Kati. "Ghana Witch Camps: Widows' Lives in Exile." BBC News, BBC, 1 Sept. 2012, www.bbc.com/news/magazine-19437130.

FILM CLIPS

Buffy the Vampire Slayer (TV show, 1997 - 2003)

Haxan (1922) by Benjamin Christensen

I am Not a Witch (2017) by Rungano Nyoni

FURTHER READING & VIEWING

I am Not a Witch (2017) film by Rungano Nyoni

Haxan (1922) film by Benjamin Christensen

The Witch (2015) film by Robert Eggers

From Circe to Clinton: Why Powerful Women are Cast as Witches, article by Madeline Miller for The Guardian <https://www.theguardian.com/books/2018/apr/07/cursed-from-circe-to-clinton-why-women-are-cast-as-witches>

When Suspected of Being a Witch, article by Chambo Ng'uni for Zambia Daily Mail: <http://www.daily-mail.co.zm/when-suspected-of-being-a-witch/>